WINS AND CONTINUES IN SECOND PLACE. GAMES YESTERDAY. New-York S. Washington 0, Pitt-burg 5, Cincinnati 3, Breoklyn 3, Philadelphia 1, Cleveland 7, Louisville 2, Boston 4, Baltimore 2.

The leaders in the League race are making a stirring fight of it to retain advantageous positions in the contest for the pennant. The New-York team jumped from sixth to fourth place vesterday chances are good for its capturing even a better position before the present week is out. Brooklyn's vic tory yesterday keeps Ward's men in second place.

The New-York team returned from Boston vesterday and crossed buts with the Washington nine, at the Polo Grounds, in the afternoon, before 1,817 spectators The New-Yorkers again played a lively, entertaining game, and won as they pleased, not allowing their rivals to score a single run. Crane pitched with the speed of a cyclone and the strategy of a wizard. One of Washington's three hits was a scratch. Little Fuller and Boyce wen honors, the former making a hit every time he went to the but, wholing up the cannonading with a three-base hit. Crane, to emphasize his control over the Washington batsmen, struck out the side in the last inning. The Washington players said the ball went over the plate so fast that they could fot see it. Ewing covered first base.

The pitchers held full sway in the first two int lngs, and it was not until the third that a run was scored, and it went to New-York's list. Boyle led off with a three-base hit between left and centre fields, and scored on a hit to right field by Fuller. The New-Yorkers got another run in the fifth inning and had a lead of 2 to 0. hoyle again hit safely and took second on a must by Dowd. He ran to third on a wild throw by Jones and scored on a hit to left But it was in the seventh inning that all doubt as to the result was removed. New York sent aine men but and four runs were scored. started off with a drive which almost took off Jones's O'Rourke bunted safely, but Robinson threw wildly to first and twons got to third and o'llourke to second. Royle hit safely for the third time and D. Lyons and O'Rourke scored.

Boyle at second. Fuller then hit safely for the third time. Tiernan hit a grounder to second base, but Richardson fumbled the ball and Crane and Fuller The home players increased their lead with two more runs in the eighth, yet the spectators applicated just as heartily as if the two won the game. Robinson had made a remarkable stop and throw of D. Lyons's drive, O'Rourke was struck by a pitched ball and went to first, taking second an instant later on a wild pitch. Crane bunted the ball cleverly and the throw to first. Fuller aroused storms applause by making his fourth consecutive hit, driving the ball to far centre field, scoring O'Rourke and Cran-Crane in the ninth lenling wound up his clever record by striking out the opposing side. The score was as

THOUGHT TO BE A FUGITIVE MURDERER.

ARREST OF A MAN CHARGED WITH KILLING A.

S. HASWELL IN PROVIDENCE. Daniel D. Sullivan, one of the men accu murdering Anthony S. Haswell in Providence, R. I., on the evening of July 10, was arrested in this city vesterday and was locked up at Police Headquarters to await the arrival of officers from Rhode Island. He was seen near the Pail River Line Pier by Thomas M. Donne, a Massachusetts State detective, who caught hold of him and placed handcuffs on him. As Inone wore no uniform, his action excited the suspicion of Policeman Finnity, of the Steamboat Squad, who went up to the two men and asked what the trouble was. Donne explained that the prisoner was a murderer and for whose arrest a reward of $500 had been offered. Finalty accompanied the two to Police Headquarters. There Donne said he had been looking for Sullivan, be cause he had known him by sight.

Sullivan is a slender man, of slovenly appearance forty-five years old. His picture is at Police Head quarters on a circular calling for his arrest and for the arrest of his supposed accomplice, Martin Dalton, alias "George Morgan," who is said to be twenty-five years old. To Sergeant Bird, Sullivan said he was not guifty of murder, as he was in this city when Hawell was killed. He was taken to the Tombs Police Court and was remanded until to day, when Detective Parker, of Providence, will be in this city to ask for his extradition.

Anthony S. Ha-well, an aged and wealthy man, was decoyed from his home in East Providence on the even ing of July 19 by two men, who pretended that they wished to negotiate the sale of some land owned by him. Having got him into a secluded place in the utskirts of the city, they knocked him down, beat him until he was insensible, and robbed him of his watch and money. He recovered consciousness and was able to give a good description of the assailants but he sank rapidly and died the same night.

The police soon suspected that Sullivan was one of the murderers. He fled from Providence, it was said, oon after the murder was committed, and the police intercepted a note which had been written by a sup-posed accomplice, warning him to get out of the State as soon as possible. Datton has not been arre-ted.

WOMEN USE VITRIOL AND HOT WATER.

A WIFE THROWS THE ACID ON HER HUSBAND AND A MOTHER SCALDS HER SON.

Isaac Phillips, a tailor, twenty-six years old, was drinking at the bar in the liquor store at No. 25 Stanton st. at 1 p. m. yesterday, when his wife Henrietta entered the place, holding a bottle in her hand. The bottle was uncorked and contained sulphuric acid. Phillips had his back turned to the door when his wife walked into the barroom. She called to him sharply 'Isanc!" He turned and she flung the contents of the bottle in his face. Then she ran away.

The acid missed the tailor's eyes, but it burned the left side of his face and neck so hadly that he will be distigured for life. After being attended by Dr. Burgoff, of No. 54 Stanton st., he went to the home of his consin, Tessie Leidmann, at No. 30 Delancevest. Phillips was arrested later at No. 75 Forsyth st, and locked up in the Eldridge st, station. Sh said she was married to Phillips five years ago, but she had been away from him several times becauhe had beaten her and compelled her to lead a life of shame to support him in idleness. Yesterday, at their with a demand for money, he best her until she was insensible, she says. Phillips denied having beaten his wife and said she was jealous because he had procured a divorce.

Earlier in the day there was a quarrel between Michael Spurzart, eighteen years old, and his mother in the tenement house, No. 210 Elizabeth et., because he insisted on having too much engar in his coffee. His mother ended the dispute by pouring some hot

WARMER WEATHER CLOSE AT HAND.

After two days of cloudiness, heat and humidity, New Yorkers awoke yesterday morning to the glad sound of a cool breeze from the northwest, gently stirring their window-curtains and bringing health and vigor in every gust. The backbone of the heated "spell" had been broken. The paim leaf fan was thrown aside, the sodawater fountain comparatively deserted and the thermometer was no longer a centra of attraction. At 3:30 p. m., always the hottest hour degrees. To be sure this was 8 degrees higher than on August 3, 1891, but comparisons are odious, and last year's record was not even to be thought of. The court who had been in the employ of Mr. How as a watch man, died at the Brooklyn Hospital. He made the Hows, father and son, his executors, and left his estate amounting to $32,538, after a few minor bequests wer paid, in trust for his nephew, William H. McCready, who was to have $1,200 n year, and after his death it was to go to the nephew's wife and child. James How never qualified as an executor, but John L. How of the will had been decided in it- favor, and the legacy to W. H. McCready regularly in semi-annual instal ments until July, 1891. Mr. How then wrote to Mc Cready that he could not collect his money until July 20, and that he would meet him on that day a Astor House. On July 1s he wrote that he had been called to Springfield, Mass., and on July 23 telegraphed that he would meet McCready on the following Thursday. But he did not do so and McCready has not seen him. He has found that How drew all the m from the savings banks in which it was deposited, but he can find no trace of it. He also found that How he can find no trace of it. He also found that How had disappeared suddenly from Brooklyn, leaving debts behind him, and that his wife had left him. SUDGMENT AGAINST THE TABERNACLE.

Ex-Senator James W. Birkett, who was elected easurer of the Brooklyn Tabernacle, of which he is a trustee, last winter to succeed John Wood, has filed a judgment for $6,045.04 against the Tabernucle trustees in the County Clerk's office. amount covers his bill for supplying the steam heating and plumling for the new Tabernacie. Birkett had the papers in the suit drawn up in June, and served them upon Edward H. Brand, prest dent of the Board of Trustees, on June 29, when he was in Mr. Lirkett's alop. The trustees were not called together to take action in defending the suit The trustees were not and no defence was made. Judgment was taken by default on July 20.

Charles M. Stafford is a former trustee, and is the present counsel for the Tabernacle. He said In regard to the matter yesterday;

"I know nothing about it, and am greatly sur prised that the treasurer of the corporation should take proceedings against it. I was told that when Mr. Birkett took the contract for the work in the church he agreed to walt for payment until the society was free from its other financial difficulties society was free from its other inflacting discounter. The result of this agreement was making him treasurer of the church. There are other creditors who should have preference over an officer of the corporation. This seems like a man suing and getting a judgment significant himself. I believe the definition be opened and the judgment set aside as this part of the Pabernacie trustees, including the president, Mr. Brand, are now in Europe.

Amidst great excitement, and despite the protests of secretary, Trustee Mabie, and others, Chalrman Everingalm declared Knapp elected for three years, and the meeting adjourned in confusion. The was soon cleared of all but a dozen men, including the was soon cleared of all but a dozen men, including the Board of Education. Then it was seen that Knapp did not have a majority by two, and was not elected. Moreover, the secretary, Briggs, Trustee Ellis and Secretary Charlton, in the presence of the heard, recounted the vote, and found that Knapp only had 1:31 votes and that Husted had nive, one of his ballots having been counted for Knapp. This created great excitement. The ballots were senied up and placed in the custody of the clerk of the board. It was decided that Mr. Mahie still held the office, Mr. Mable will hold over as trustee until the next annual meeting in 1803 at any rate. Mr. Knapp says, as the chairman declared him elected, he is entitled to hold the office, and on Tuesday night will attend the meeting of the Board of Education and demand his seat.

THREE SMALLPOX CASES DISCOVERED,

Since the case of Mrs. William Burke, of Tulip-st. Flatbush, who was taken suddenly ill with smallpox two weeks ago, the spread of the disease in Oaklands, where the Contagious-Diseases Hospital is situated, has become alarming. Three new cases were reported resterday to the Brooklyn Board of Health by Dr. Honer L. Bartlett. As the cases are not in the Brooklyn Board's jurisdiction, word was sent to the Flatbush Board. Judge E. Sweeney, of the Board, told a reporter yesterday that everything would be done to prevent the disease from spreading.

"Our Characey" is a poem, by Isanc H. Bremley, illustrated profusely and comically by Dan Beard and C. D. Gibson, two of the best pen-und-luk artists in New-York City. When first read, in New-York City, before the Yale College boys, it was received with one prolonged burst of laughter and applause, which lasted to the end. No doubt every admirer of "Our Chanacey" will be delighted to be able to possess it in a permanent and really beautiful form, embellished by capital drawings and cariched by the poet with a series of excruci-ating notes. It is a delicious piece of fun, and it is moreover thoroughly possessed of a spirit of genial and sincere admiration for its eloquent subject. Mr Bromley's humor, whether in prose or verse, is too well known and too highly and generally appl to need special comment; but it is doubtful whether he has ever done his wit more credit than in these dashing, rollicking and brilliant verses. Result price. $1 a copy.
